From: Financial Times Briefing <FT@emailbriefings.ft.com>
To: ehbarak1@gmail.com
CC:
Date: Tue, 1/27/2015 8:29:42 AM
Subject: In today's FT: Q&A: What now for Greeceafter Syriza win, Athens an...

To view this email as a webpage, click here

Tuesday January 27 2015

UK HOMEPAGE

Q&A: What now for Greece after Syriza win

The options for Athens in its wrangles with its creditors over debt relief

Athens and creditors dig in on Greek debt

Syriza moves fast to cement anti-bailout coalition

Russia downgraded to 'junk' by S&P

Shift underscores dramatic economic deterioration

VIDEO

Election blow for Greek banks

Greek bank shares fell heavily in anticipation of the victory of the leftwing Syriza party in Greece's national elections. Lex's Robert Armstrong and Oliver Ralph discuss how the outlook has changed.

US HOMEPAGE

US east coast braced for storm

US northeast braced for 'crippling' winter battering

US east coast braced for blizzard

Airlines cancel thousands of flights ahead of snowstorms

Russians accused of spying in New York

US says bank employee and two officials tried to recruit staff at major US companies

EUROPE HOMEPAGE

Microsoft warns over PC software unit

Shares fall nearly 4% after hours as shine is taken off cloud growth

Kurds claim victory over Isis in Kobani

Forces claim to have wrested back control of Syrian border city after four-month battle

BP to freeze global salaries

Cap follows plunge in oil price

ASIA HOMEPAGE

Crash could set back media's drone hopes

Breach at White House heightens security and privacy concerns around commercial use

Tokyo leads Asian rally, Nikkei up 1.2%

Abe takes to fairways to pitch pay rises

Prime minister courts executives at the country's exclusive golf clubs

WORLD NEWS

US budget deficit to fall to 2.6% of GDP

CBO says strengthening economy to boost government revenues in 2015

Kochs to double election spending in 2016

Brothers' conservative political network plans to spend nearly $900m in next presidential campaign

Nato accuses Russia over Ukraine

As crisis worsens Putin calls Kiev's army a 'foreign legion'

Saudi Arabia to maintain expenditure

Kingdom will continue to invest despite drop in oil price

COMPANIES NEWS

Mattel chief quits as earnings drop 60%

Toymaker loses ground to rival Lego and electronic devices

ETP in $17bn deal to take on Regency

Tie-up between pipeline groups comes as oil and gas industry hit by plunging crude prices

Ulbricht used alias to promote Silk Road

Alleged mastermind's Gmail account matched expense report entries

Facebook tries to get personal with video ads

Analysts believe site could gain up to $1bn revenue via targeted marketing

Japanese carmakers risk commoditisation

Autonomous driving based on complex software attracts new entrants including Google

MARKETS

Equity markets calm after Greece vote

Euro climbs off 11-year low but Greek bank stocks slide

Opec chief says oil prices could soon rebound

Abdalla El-Badri says the market may have reached a bottom

ECB faces bond liquidity challenge

Success of the scheme will depend on the way sellers behave

S&P reports leap in Europe direct lending

Credit funds have raised €45bn of capital to end of 2014

Royal Mail posts rise on Dutch bid talk

FTSE 100 rises 0.3% or 19.57 points to 6,852.40

COMMENT

EU cannot agree to write off Greek debt

The prospect of defaults would frighten the markets and increase the risk of another crisis

Halve Greek debt to keep eurozone together

Any salvation new drachma might offer would be preceded by years of purgatory, writes Reza Moghadam

World Bank fails to credit intelligence of poor

Organisation's bias in its perceptions of those in poverty has shaped flawed policy, writes Michael Holman

Calm moment in stormy US-India marriage

The influential Indian diaspora in America constantly urges the two to resolve their differences

Austerity will break a Labour government

Party's votes are already floating to leftwing alternatives, and this is before Ed Miliband has made a single cut

MANAGEMENT

Unions suffer for lack of a killer app

Sharing economy is threat and missed chance for organised labour

Who trains 'plug and play' generation?

CEOs are transfixed by the prediction that US millennials are likely to have 15-20 jobs

Train your brain to get you up that hill

New research examines how the brain affects physical stamina

Belvidere Place, Broadstairs

Atmospheric dining near a spruced up seaside town

Manage email | Forward this email

Feedback | Manage portfolio

Subscribe to the FT

Follow the FT

Unsubscribe | My Account | RSS | Privacy Policy | About Us | Help

© THE FINANCIAL TIMES LTD 2015

You have received this email because you have signed up from the NBE preference page.

This email was sent by a company owned by Pearson plc, registered office at 80 Strand, London WC2R 0RL.

Registered in England and Wales with company number 53723.